

ALLIANCE ENVIRONMENTAL GROUP ACQUIRES THERMATECH NORTHWEST

AZUSA, CA / October 13, 2021 /PRNewswire/ -- Alliance Environmental Group, LLC is pleased to announce the acquisition of Thermatech Northwest Inc. and the continuation of the expansion of the Group on the West Coast.

"Acquiring a company or opening a division in the State of Washington has been on our radar for the past year. We believe that Thermatech Northwest Inc. is the correct strategic alignment for our latest acquisition, allowing us to further expand across the West Coast" said, co-founder and Chief Executive Officer of Alliance Environmental Group Jeff McLean. "Therma Tech Northwest Inc. provides similar services to Alliance Environmental, and thus we are excited to add them to our ever-growing portfolio of brands and companies."

"Alliance Environmental Group has grown exponentially, especially with a few strategic acquisitions in recent years. Thermatech Northwest Inc. was the right choice for our Group, we look forward to a continued working relationship with a company that has similar values and goals," said co-founder Joe McLean.

"Our company is excited to join the ranks of Alliance Environmental Group," said Bob Guiley, co-founder of Thermatech Northwest Inc. "We believe that a group such as Alliance Environmental understands our services and has the necessary experience and track record in environmental remediation and abatement that makes them the natural choice for our company's evolution."

Keystone Capital Markets advised Alliance on this transaction and was instrumental in the identification, grooming of the principals for the process and assisting in due diligence.
